Red Alert warning lifted at Lake Ainsworth

The red alert at Lake Ainsworth on the North Coast has now been lifted as blue green algae concentrations have remained low over the past two weeks.

As the red alert has been lifted there are no longer any restrictions on recreational activities.

Routine monitoring remains in place to identify any potential risks to recreational users.

Updates about blue-green algae blooms and red level warning areas can be obtained by visiting <http://www.waternsw.com.au/algae>, or calling 1800 999 457.
