» Online events calendar

The Discover Ballina website, www.discoverballina.com is the destination website for the Ballina Shire. The website contains comprehensive local information, accommodation booking service, an events calendar, links to social media motivational images, plus much more. The events calendar contains event details and images on local and regional events.

To arrange for your event to be listed follow the link "submit your event" on www.discoverballina.com at the bottom of the page within the Site Map. Staff will approve and upload your event automatically subject to all criteria being met.

» What's on Board

The What's On Board is located in a prominent position within the Ballina Visitor Information Centre. The board is updated daily by staff and displays upcoming events, workshops, exhibitions and weather for visitors and locals through the Centre. Please provide Centre staff with an A4 poster for the What's On board and ensure that you have uploaded your event to www.discoverballina.com

Guidelines for staff accepting posters for the what's on notice board

- The poster must be in relation to an event or festival. The event must have a set event date and not just be a generic notice. Council has other communication channels for notices, this festival and events board is not used for general community notices.
- Acceptance of a poster over the counter does not necessarily result in display of poster. Details must have been provided via the weblink first.
- Festivals and Special Events in the Ballina Shire are given first priority
- We do not accept information for festivals or events outside of the Northern Rivers region.

» Promotional collateral

If your event has the appropriate approvals then staff can display promotional collateral for your event such as flyers, brochures and programs through the Ballina Visitor Information Centre. As event promotional collateral is produced and delivered to the Centre it will be displayed appropriately and promoted by staff.

» Destination NSW

The Australian Tourism Data Warehouse (ATDW) is the database for the Tourism Australia (www.australia.com) and Destination NSW (www.visitnsw.com) online event calendars. Staff at the Ballina Visitor Information Centre regularly update local events along with destination information including accommodation, attractions, tours and dining information. Events must be aimed at the tourist market and you must have used the 'submit event' on the discoverballina.com website for content to be loaded to the Australian Tourism Data Warehouse.

»» Event Signage

Council has identified a number of sites throughout the Shire as being suitable for the promotion of community events where signage infrastructure is provided. The signs must promote an upcoming community event that is being held within Ballina Shire. It is the intent that these signs are visually attractive and provided in a uniform manner so that they are easily identified and understood by motorists.

Community event organisers are invited to make an application for hire of this infrastructure, which is free for not for profit community organisations. Fees are incurred for commercial organisations. To make a booking, download an application on Council's website www.ballina.nsw.gov.au (access via Heading - Community & Lifestyle > Events > Community Event Signage).

»» Social media

The Ballina Visitor Information Centre manages three social media pages;

- www.facebook.com/ballinacoastandhinterland
- www.twitter.com/discoverballina
- www.instagram.com/discoverballina

Local event information is frequently posted to these pages to engage followers and promote Ballina Coast and Hinterland. Event information and images can be posted and shared from these sites just tag us discoverballinacoastandhinterland.

»» Festival and Events Support Program

Ballina Shire Council values the importance of local festivals that aim to showcase the rich cultural diversity and history of our local community, and that deliver economic, social and environmental benefits.

Each year Council invites submissions from the community as part of the annual Operational Plan process. Submissions must be made on Council's application form. A Councillor workshop considers all submissions and recommends to the next Ordinary meeting of Council a distribution of the available funds.

For further information on the funding program please refer to the Festivals and Events – Council Support policy at ballina.nsw.gov.au.
